Four Ambulance Companies Say, "Open Klingle Road!"

Today, Professional Ambulance Service, Silver Spring Ambulance Service, Metro Care Wheelchair Transport, and DC's Ambulance Services Company, which is comprised of 33 city ambulances and 2 wheelchair transports, endorsed the opening of Klingle Road. Owner Shelton Hackett Sr. of DC's Ambulance Services Company says, "Why wait for an unexpected emergency." Gary Reed, who owns the other three companies says, "By opening Klingle Road, we could expedite our patients to and from hospitals and their homes." These endorsements by area ambulance companies recognize that Klingle Road is vital to the protection of our public safety, and are the latest in a fast growing list of community groups and civic and business leaders who endorse the reopening including:
